On the Right Tack—Polygamy to be Suppressed.

GUITEAU TRIAL—JUDGE PORTER'S SPEECH

New York Notes—Cannon-Campbell Case—Off for the Polar Regions—San Francisco Items—Other News.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, January 23.—The Senate Judiciary Committee to-day agreed on a bill designed for the suppression of polygamy. Its main features are, based on the Edmunds' bill, doing away with the present requirement for proofs of the polygamous marriage by providing that the fact of living in bigamous relations shall be sufficient evidence.

For conviction, and that in prosecutions for bigamy any person drawn as a juror may be challenged on the ground that he practices or believes in polygamous religious right. Certain new provisions were introduced by Senator Logan debaring all polygamists from the privileges of voting, service on juries, or holding office.

GUITEAU.

A Change Comes Over the Spirit of His Dreams.

New York, January 23.—The Herald's Washington special says: The assassin looks haggard and dejected and there is a perceptible change in his appearance.

WAS HE INSANE.

To-morrow Judge Porter expects to begin his address to the jury. His speech will have special reference to two questions. First, was the prisoner insane at the time he fired the shot, and second, if so was it of such nature as to destroy his will. He will group the testimony and seek to clear the case of all irrelevant and superfluous element.

COX'S CHARGE.

Judge Cox will consume one hour and a half in charging the jury.

OVERFLOWING.

WASHINGTON, January 23.—Every seat in the Court room this morning was crowded to overflowing. Hundreds were unable to obtain seats, and were compelled to remain outside. Guiteau, on the opening of the Court, made his usual harangue. Judge Porter entered the Court room shortly before the prisoner had delivered his speech. After a few minutes pause he stepped to the open space before the jury and commenced at once his closing argument in behalf of the prosecution.

JUDGE PORTER SAID:

"If I please your Honor and gentlemen of the jury, in my own intimacy, for I share your fatigue, I proceed as best I can to discharge my duty. The nature of this duty is such that I should feel I were almost an accessory after the fact if I should fail to speak such words as I can to aid you in reaching the proper conclusion. Thus far the trial has been practically conducted by the prisoner and Scoville. Every one has been denounced at their will and even now I am informed I will be interrupted by them both. Judge Porter briefly recited the

SCENES OF DISORDER.

The abuse and slander to which every one in the case had for two months been subject, "and yet," he said, "of three speeches which have been made by defense I will do the prisoner justice to say that his is the least objectionable one." After sketching the circumstances leading up to the crime and painting with fervid language the damning wickedness of its execution, Judge Porter turned his attention to the prisoner and proceeded to depict his character.

ON PURPOSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—Capt. Leander leaves on the 30th for Honolulu, via San Francisco, to take command of the steam whaler North Star. Capt. Owens' vessel is almost always the pioneer ship in the Arctic Seas, and he will, barring accidents, be the first to communicate with the Rogers in the spring. Owens will reach St. Lawrence Bay before the Rogers can get out of winter quarters, and he will communicate with her as soon as possible, sending over the ice, if necessary, all letters or things that the friends of the officers and crew of the Rodgers may desire to send them. They will be forwarded by the Commodore or the Chief of the Bureau of Navigation and detail through to Captain Owens.

CANNON-CAMPBELL.

Chairman Calkins will Consider the Case of Cannon's Citizenship.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]

New York, Jan. 23.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The records and testimony in the contested election case of Cannon against Campbell, of Utah, have been printed, and Chairman Calkins of the Election Committee will begin the consideration of the case next Tuesday. One of the Utah points involved is Cannon's citizenship. According to the evidence of Cannon's brother, they both came to the United States from England in 1843, when the contestant was fifteen years old. Five years later he

EMIGRATED TO UTAH.

Two years later, when he was twenty-two years old, he came to California. In 1850, according to the testimony of William Farrar, a brother Mormon, Cannon was sent by the Church as a missionary to the Sandwich Islands, where he remained till July, 1854, during which period he translated the book of Mormon into the Hawaiian language. Cannon claimed that on December 7, 1854, he became duly naturalized as a citizen of the United States, and he produces a certificate that he was so naturalized. But the journals of proceedings of the Court

FAILS TO SHOW THE FACT

Of such naturalization as the laws of Utah require. It is therefore contended not only that Cannon's certificate of naturalization is null and void because issued in contravention of the law, but that he was not entitled in 1854 to a certificate because he had not continuously resided in the United States during the five years next preceding the date of its issue.

NEW YORK NOTES.

The Noble Red Man—A First-class Ad.

New York, Jan. 23.—A special from Mexico to-day says: "The Saltillo Indians are on the war path near the town of Saltillo. They attacked the diligencia, robbing it and killing four of the passengers. Federal soldiers have been ordered in pursuit of the Indians."

A FIRST-CLASS AD.

The thirty-ninth annual statement of the Mutual Insurance Company shows that its assets aggregate $84,702,955 and its surplus over $13,000,000. The total paid to policy holders last year was $12,640,112.

SAN BERNARDINO CLIPPINGS.

[San Bernardino Times, Jan. 21st.]

A bar of fine bullion weighing 150 pounds was brought in from the Waterman mine this morning, and deposited at the Farmers' Exchange Bank.

Mr. Wm. McFarlane, just in from Ivanpah, brings good reports from that camp. Everything is moving along in its usual quiet way. The mines continue to show well, the mills are running and Ivanpah continues to yield her quota to the wealth of the world.

The work of construction on the California Southern Railroad is being vigorously pushed. On Monday sixty-five hundred feet of track were laid; on Tuesday seventy-seven hundred and yesterday ninety-three hundred feet. The track is now four miles above Santa Sidorra, on the Santa Margarita rancho.

We examined the plans and elevation of Mr. Richard Gird's projected mansion at Chino to-day. It is the design of Peck & Jones and will certainly be a handsome structure when completed. Its length is 108 feet by 65 feet in breadth, two stories in height, with large court-yard in the center. It has library, laboratory, billiard room, parlor, sitting rooms, etc., and all the appointments of a modern residence. Water will be laid on in every room and when completed it will be the finest residence in this county.

The man who "pushed things"—the man who worked with a wheel-barrow.

HARD TIMES—CHEAP LIVING.

There is nothing like having improvements or remedies presented at the time we need them. A salve for a burn would be an incumbrance in the house until on some unlucky day when Johnny should pull the tea-kettle over upon himself and scald half of the life out of him. So when our wallets are plethoric we court the Commercial Restaurant or the choice viands of the Cosmopolitan or the Pico table. But when the drouth gives us a vision of an empty flour sack, and butter is up in the nineties, and mutton chops have gone to grass where there is no grass, it is nothing less than a God-send to have a way opened to plenty of grub. Now here is a way in which a family in Bakersfield is fortified against a dry season, or any other calamity that might step in between a hungry stomach, and wherewith to appease it. J. B. Rumford is the man, and following is what he says: "I find that three of us, a growing boy of seventeen years, my wife, and self, do not together use on an average more than one and one-half pounds of wheat or other grain per day, and though supplied with Seckel, Winter Nellis, and other pears, peaches, apples, Muscat grapes, and other fruit—not more than eight pounds of fruit per day—thus making a total expense of 24 cents for grain, and 16 cents for fruit per day. So we have a total of 40 cents per day, or $60.00 per year, or $22.20 for each person; and as wages here for ordinary work are $1.50 per day (if you board yourself) it would take less than fifteen days' labor to provision each one a year on a full supply of the best grain and choicest fruits, giving the best health and gustatory pleasure; and as in the experiment we used them all uncooked, the only work of preparation necessary to be performed was a few minutes' time each day preparing the grain in a steel hand-mill, not equal to more than five minutes for each person."

Living in this way all the family gained in health. Mr. Rumford adds: "I was in two weeks completely cured of dyspepsia, that has troubled me from boyhood until nearly fifty years of age, and my spectacles, which had become constant companions, were nearly put aside, and with them all an increase of mental if not of physical ability. Any one, from one acre, well cultivated in fruits and grain, with one hour's work each day, can be supplied with a most wholesome and delightful diet of the finest fruits and continue in good health; and one hour more, well applied, will furnish good comfortable clothing. Why need it longer be said man is subject to the curse of earning his bread by the sweat of his brow?"

RAILROAD WORK CALIFORNIAWARD.

The announcement from Boston, that the Atlantic and Pacific R. R. company has issued a circular calling for sixteen and a half millions of dollars with which to complete its track to the Pacific coast, has in it a very gratifying feeling, and gives us an assurance that the Atlantic and Pacific may be brought through to us without unnecessary delay.

Of the route of this road from the point of its connection with the San Diego branch near the Cajon Pass, there is much speculation and little certain knowledge. The surveys made over the Tehachapi mountains, and through a portion of the San Joaquin valley to us argues but little in influencing our conjecture, for we presume always that men with brains enough to amass and handle the funds necessary to build a trans-continental railroad, have heads level enough to run their road where there will be assistance to construct and business to maintain it. By the route we mention there is neither and never will be, or at least but a trifle in comparison with the business offered on the coast route. We believe the Atlantic and Pacific on its way to San Francisco will pass through

Los Angeles, and thence run along the coast. Our reasons for our belief can be given briefly: To carry out its contract with the people of San Diego the road must be built through the Cajon Pass. Secondly, we have the opinion of a railroad engineer, himself well acquainted with the management of the Atlantic and Pacific, that this is to be the route, and that the engineering difficulties encountered in the route on which survey work has been done, are factors that will influence the decision of the way to be taken. Thirdly, we have the word of a San Diego gentleman of good standing, that Mr. Nickerson, president of the Atlantic and Pacific during his late visit there told him distinctly that a road would be built from the California Southern, from a point between Riverside and San Luis Rey to Los Angeles. Now we have faith in this, partly from the reliability of the testimony, and more from the rationality of the thing. There is here what the railroad will want—business. And once in the beautiful, fruitful Los Angeles valley, there is nothing to do but keep on up the coast, taking in the large business of Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties.

The coast route would be the route par excellence over which to make the trip to the North. Its freedom from heat and dust, and the magnificent scenery, in contrast with the monotony of the San Joaquin Valley route, would always attract travel, and its business would rapidly increase from the growth of the towns through which it would pass.

The Senate Judiciary Committee are now on the right track with reference to the Mormon question, as will be seen from our dispatches. They make it possible to convict the bigamous, lecherous rascals; the penalty is such that they will be decent rather than to brave it. The bill should pass without question.

There are two Congressmen now serving who commenced life as pages in the National House, and a Senator whose start in life was as a page in the Senate. The Congressmen are Townsend of Illinois, and Wise of Virginia. The Senator is Gorman of Maryland.

STATE AND COAST ITEMS.

Extensive bush fires raged near Pescadero last week.

John Golden was killed by a falling log, near Truckee yesterday.

Dry weather in Stanislaus on the West side, and farmers are getting alarmed.

A few days ago a man named Kish, on the Nipomo ranch, San Luis Obispo, accidentally fell on the point of a newly-sharpened pick lashed to his plow. It penetrated his back a depth of four inches. He was driving a six-horse team, but stopped, and held them while his wife ran nearly a mile for assistance.

Last night a burglary was committed in Ripon, twenty miles from Stockton. Sheriff Cunningham and Chief Langmaid arrested the burglar, who proved to be Tuckerman, alias Thompson, alias Taylor, and old offender. Tuckerman has been sentenced to San Quentin a total of twenty-five years. First for forgery, six years; then for robbery nineteen years.

The Modesto Herald says: The surveyors of the California and Nevada narrow-gauge railroad have pitched their tents near Modesto, having finished the survey and location of the road to the San Joaquin river, on the west side, near Grayson. One of the surveyors informed us that the first 100 miles of the road was under contract, and grading was progressing rapidly. It is not known as yet at what point they will cross the track of the Southern Pacific, but he presumes it will be on the north side of the town of Modesto.

The following are the statistics of industry among the Nez Perce Indians at Lapwai reservation, Idaho: The population of the tribe is 1,236, comprising 257 farmers. The dwelling place on the reserve comprises 48 frame buildings, 128 log houses and 72 cloth, 18 skin and 12 bark lodges. There are 4,713 acres in cultivation. Of domestic animals the Indians possess 12,696 horses, 880 cows, 10 oxen, 1,500 other cattle, 675 swine and 1,200 domestic fowls. The solitary item under the head of manufactured products is 300 yards of cloth or matting.

SANTA ANA CULLINGS.

We understand that farmers are now asking $1.75 per cwt. for corn in the crib. Barley is now touching $2, and hay is $20 per ton and scarce at that.

On Thursday of last week, while the storm was at its height, the water in the irrigation company's canal, at what is known as Kirby's fill, broke over the banks and, besides undermining Mr. Kirby's house, did considerable other damage, which the company will doubtless be called upon to pay. The heavy fall of snow in the mountains probably caused the overflow.

Spring Street Planing Mill.

As a demonstration of the grand possibilities we possess in the manufacturing line, we call the attention of our business men to the fact that the old planing mill on Spring street has overgrown itself and must seek new quarters forthwith. This fact speaks louder than mere words the bold assertion that any legitimate manufacturing industry will thrive in this city if properly conducted. Mr. Stovell has troubled the number of employees there within the past four months, and the owners, Messrs. A. Lohman & Co., have concluded to build a much larger and more complete institution on Main street, where the Round House is now situated. We have urged the importance of manufactures—the balance wheel of commerce, a knife cutting both ways—benefiting production as well as mechanical labor, and through them the public generally. This firm's enterprise is highly commendable and will be referred to further in connection with their new enterprise. More, more, like the leech, is our cry, and we must have them. Our business men must throw away a sprat to catch a mackerel; in other words, take the five or six per cent that manufacturers may realize on the realization of a far greater gain to them and the city generally in the end.

The Chronicle.

R. B. Phillips, representing the most progressive journal of the Pacific Coast, the San Francisco Chronicle, is in this city looking after the interests of that paper in this vicinity. From the smallest beginnings the Chronicle has worked its way up through every successive stage until it stands at the head, in point of enterprise, of the newspaper fraternity in the great West. Mr. Phillips is commended to the kindly offices of the people of this country. He travels in his own "jumper," and takes care that no one shall feel slighted.

Not Discouraged.

A gentleman who passed through San Fernando valley the latter part of last week informed a TIMES reporter that Senator Maclay is still putting in wheat on a large scale, running eleven six-horse gang-plows. He is not deterred by the lateness of the season or the dry prospect. It is sincerely hoped that the Senator has a private understanding with the weather clerk, and that his assurance that the favoring showers will yet come may not be amiss.

Brick by Steam.

A gentleman of means recently arrived here from Philadelphia with the intention of manufacturing brick by steam. It is said his method of manufacturing is a valuable one, combining rapid manufacture with a superior quality of brick. All such enterprises are greatly needed and liberal encouragement should be given in order to secure these enterprises and make them permanent industries.

The Weather Report.

Observations taken by the U. S. Army Signal Service at 8.15 o'clock last night are as follows: Barometer, 30.01; Thermometer, 49.45; Wind, NW 1; Cloudy. Maximum thermometer, 58; Minimum thermometer, 38.

[Written for THE TIMES.]

FAREWELL.

Farewell, the orange and the lime,
The roses and the sunny clime;
The moonshine and its hills sublime,
The land of peace, of fruits and wine,
Adieu, my thoughts will dwell on thee
And after years fond memory
Will bear me back, my musings be Of Angel's land, beside the sea.

Again I'll drink its balmy air,
Perfumed by fragrant flowers fair,
And 'neath its skies forever clear
Again I'll roam the bowers there,
And gather shells upon the shore,
I'll live as in the days of yore
And feast upon its joys once more,
The Angel's land, muse o'er and o'er.

But stop this musings, fare thee well,
Time bears for me a muffled bell,
For through my life a mystic spell
Hangs o'er, since coming here to dwell.
Thou land without a parallel,
Where peace and love with rapture swell
The melody of hill and dell,
Thou land of angels, fare thee well.

EAGLE CORPS BENEFIT.

The Performance Last Night at Turn-Verein Hall.

Last night a good audience turned out to witness the last performance of the Grover Dramatic Company under their engagement at Turn-Verein Hall.

But to-night they have consented to play once more for the benefit of the Eagle Corps military company of this place. The boys are deserving and should have a good house. They will give a street parade in the evening just preceding the entertainment. "Lady Audley's Secret" and the laughable farce of "Taming a wife" will be played by the entire Grover Combination. It will be remembered that this is the play that was so well received last Saturday night. The "Ticket of Leave Man" was played last night. Grover as Bob Brierly was good. He is a rising young character and will make his mark. The rest of the company were good.

WRITING WITH LEMON JUICE.

Father John Gerard, of the society of Jesus, who was confined and cruelly tortured in the tower of London at the end of Queen Elizabeth's reign, was in the habit of writing letters in orange or lemon juice to his friends. The manner in which he baffled the vigilance of the jail is described in detail
in his highly interesting autobiography,
published a few years ago by Father John Morris. Father Gerard says:
"Now, lemon juice has this property,
that what is written in it can be read in water quite as well as by fire, and when the paper is dried the writing disappears again until it is steeped afresh, or again held to the fire. But anything written in orange juice is at once washed out by water and cannot be read in that way; and if held to the fire, though the characters are thus made to appear, they will not disappear; so that a letter of this sort, once read, can never be delivered to any one as if it had not been read. The party will see at once that it has been read, and will certainly refuse and disown it if it contained anything dangerous."

One result of Father Gerard's orange juice correspondence was that, with the aid of zealous friends outside, he effected his escape from the Tower in 1597. The last ten years of his life were spent in the English college at Rome, where he closed a long, arduous and meritorious career on July 1630, aged 73.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

FRESH AIR FOR SCARLET FEVER.

The very notable experiment which was tried by Dr. Ashy, medical officer of health for Grantham, England, in dealing with the summer outbreak of scarlet fever in that town, has deservingly attracted much attention. The plan resorted to was that of isolating
the patients in tents. He prevailed upon the local authorities to erect a tent hospital on the outskirts of the town, and induced parents to send their sick there; the result was most successful. Parents availed themselves of the tents largely—the early prejudice against any such arrangement being readily overcome—the patients did remarkably well, and the spread of the disease was unquestionably much curtailed.

Effects of Telegraph Wires on Animals.

Some interesting facts are brought out in a paper by M. C. Nielsen, of Christiana, on the impression produced upon animals by the resonance of the vibrations of telegraph wires. It is found that the black and green woodpeckers, for example, which hunt for insects in the bark and in the heart of decaying trees often peck inside the circular hole made transversely through telegraph posts, generally near the top.
The phenomenon is attributed to the resonance produced in the post by the vibration of the wire, which the bird mistakes as the result of the operations of worms and insects in the interior of the post. Everyone knows the fondness of bears for honey. It has been noticed that in mountainous districts
they seem to mistake the vibratory sound of the telegraph wires for the grateful humming bees, and, rushing to the post, look about for the hive.
Not finding it on the post, they scatter
the stones at its base which help to support it, and disappointed in their search, give the post a parting pat with their paw, thus showing their determination at least to kill any bees that might be about it. Indisputable traces of bears about prostrate posts and scattered stones prove that this really happens.
With regard to wolves, again, M.
Nielsen states that when a vote was asked at the time for the first great telegraph line a member of the Storching said that, although his district had no direct interest in the line, he proposed, he would give his vote in its favor, because he knew the lines would drive the wolves from the districts through which they passed. It is well known that to keep off the ravages of hungry wolves in winter the farmers in Norway set up poles connected together by a line or rope, under which the wolves would not dare to pass.
"And it is, twenty or more years ago, telegraph lines were carried over the mountains and along the valleys, the wolves totally disappeared, and specumen is now a variety." Whether the two circumstances are casually connected, M. Nielsen does not venture to say.

The Chamberlain stock-stealing case continues at Chico, and new evidence against the accused is being brought forward.
